Indians support government in peyote trial

Indian citizens in support of the government. They are fearful that Trujillo and his followers are abusing the use of the peyote in their sacrament. They say Trujillo and his fellow church members are making a mockery of the Indian heritage.

But attorneys for the government have called Trujillo's 10-year-old religion a sham. They maintain that the religion was created only because Trujillo believed he could challenge the law that allows Indians to use peyote.

the U.S. government and the state of Texas. Trujillo and the 37 members of his church are suing for permission to buy and use the illegal, hallucinogenic herb of the peyote cactus as part of their religious ceremonies.

Safe downtown

Especially problems even before the relocation of the care center... I am in support of a facility to respond to the needs of the transient and the homeless.

Not downtown

It is an unfortunate state of affairs when our city is considering locating a mission for homeless people in the downtown area.

Concerned

We oppose the location of the three organizations that wish to purchase the old city hall for several reasons. Let me make it clear, we do not oppose the organizations, but the location.

our staff people have charmed the project. What I'm trying to say is, by no means, we are people who believe in helping with the problems of the needy, and we will continue to do so.

Alternate site Our business is located in the 300 block of Main Street. In the past we have donated business and staff time, money and effort, to raise food and collect food for the needy.

We have sponsored several blood drives for the United Blood Services when the need arose.

Our business has been the depository for Big Brothers-Big Sisters "Foster for Fathers" fund-raiser for two years. This involves a lot of staff time - plus, both years.
