

Mono Pardehton of Mono-Rena Pottery will be present during our exhibition to show his beautiful pottery decorated with traditional Apache designs.

Rena Parolis of Mono-Rena Pottery and wife of Mono Pardehton will be at our exhibition Thursday, October 7. Her pottery features her lovely drawings of Indian children.

See a Navajo rug weaver creating an original hand-loomed rug. A 3x5 rug requires over 200 hours of weaving time to complete.

See a silversmith demonstrating the age-old skill of hand wrought silver creations. Many types of silver work are included in the exhibition.

Miller & Paine at the crossroads of Nebraskaland

American Indian Authentics

As old as ancient ruins . . . as modern as tomorrow . . . the beauty of Indian art has a universal appeal. Miller & Paine proudly presents an exhibition and sale of authentic American Indian arts and crafts. Their highly expressive artistry preserves ancient cultural skills in traditionally hand made items, all totally original, and represent tribes from coast to coast and from Florida and the Southwest to Alaska. These handicrafts are collectors items, representing a cultural heritage long past and should not be confused with souvenirs or imitations. These arts are being promoted in connection with a federal program sponsored by the industrial development department of the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs, designed to help reduce unemployment on the nation's Indian reservations by broadening the Indian craft's enterprises. The exhibition includes Chippewa decorative pieces, Navajo rugs, woven articles from the Northwest, silverwork, and sportswear from our own Macy reservation. Everything you see you can buy, whether you choose a traditional item or one of the most modern you will have an example of America's finest handicraft. On display 4th floor Auditorium Downtown store October 2 through 16.

SPECIAL SATURDAY FEATURE OMAHA INDIAN DANCERS

Tribal dances by our own Omaha Indians from the Omaha Reservation at Macy, Nebraska, 10:30 and 12:30 Saturday, October 2, 4th floor auditorium. Sportswear from Macy Reservation modeled all day Saturday.